about my blog

I started cooking as an early teenager and my passion for creating recipes and sharing good food has only grown stronger over the years. My food blog primarily focuses on gluten free recipes, using fresh and healthy ingredients. The majority of my recipes are naturally gluten free, can be made gluten-free, or I provide the alternative to make it a traditional recipe. So there's plenty of delicious recipes for everyone. I cater to all! I offer variety. I offer convenience. I offer yumminess!

about the blogger

I'm a southern girl who was born and raised in Nashville, TN. I moved out west in my early 20's and planted my home in Phoenix, AZ. I discovered I have a sensitivity to gluten after I had my son and knew I had to change the way I eat. Even though I have a sensitivity to gluten, eating food that tastes good is super important to me. And that's what I do. I make recipes that everyone will love and that are worth repeating!
